Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Some Indiana Insurance Faces As we journey through life let us live by the way. With these few words the Irish poet, Tom Moore, voices the sentiment and explains the main purpose of this little book, containing Some Indiana Insurance Faces. I am sure we, at least the most of us, spend too much of our time - that valuable commodity - and our money - that root of all evil - with the serious, when if we would only stop by the way now and then, how much brighter we, as well as the rest of the world, would be, because A little nonsense now and then, Is relished by the best of men. This galaxy of faces might be called a souvenir of the men who are now, and have been, in the Insurance Field Work of Indiana. And last, but decidedly not least, an important object of this effort is to assist me in keeping the wolf from the door. If I have succeeded in moving your risibles in an infinitesimal degree, as you journey through this little book, then my endeavor has not been wholly ineffectual.
