Reviews

Comprehensive guide! Its this type of very good read through. It is actually writter in simple words and phrases rather than difficult to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 22 pages. Original publisher: Washington, DC : U. S. General Accounting Office, 2001 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)54524741 Subject: Nuclear industry -- United States. Excerpt: . . . To ensure effective use of the excepted service positions created by Title 32, we recommend that the Administrator not allocate any additional positions until thorough human capital and workforce planning strategies have been developed that reflect NNSAs final organizational alignment. Agency Comments We provided NNSA with a draft of this report for its review and comment, and NNSAs comments are included in their entirety in the enclosure. NNSA acknowledged the reports findings in each of the four management areas related to Title 32 that we reviewed. However, NNSA cited a variety of factors to explain its lack of momentum in implementing Title 32, including the events and aftermath of the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks; ongoing operations; a slow fiscal year 2002 budget process; delays in the confirmation process for presidential appointees; and significant institutional barriers such as the need to coordinate with other federal agencies and other DOE and NNSA offices. In addition, NNSA stated that it failed to see the value added by (GAOs) latest effort. While we appreciate NNSAs difficulties in implementing key aspects of Title 32, the intent of our work, as requested, is to provide the Special Oversight Panel on Department of Energy Reorganization of the House Armed Services Committee with an objective, fact-based assessment of NNSAs progress at the end of fiscal year 2001. Although NNSA has produced two reports for the Panel on Title 32 implementation, these reports have either not been responsive to the Panels needs, according to the Panels October 16 2000 assessment report, or have not addressed long-standing and widely...
