To thee, and to none else of living things, Which may transfer the sceptre of wide Heaven, The fear of which perplexes the Supreme: Clothe it in words, and hid it clasp his throne In intercession; hend thy soul in prayer, And, like a suppliant in some gorgeous fane, Let the will kneel within thy haughty heart: For henefits and meek submission tame The fiercest and the mightiest. Pro. Evil minds Change good to their own nature. I gave all He has; and in return he chains me here Years, ages, night, and day; whether the Sun Split my parched skin, or in the moony night The crystal-winged snow clinged round my hair: Whilst my beloved race is trampled down By his thought-executing ministers. Such is the tyrants recompense: tis just: He who is evil can receive...
